As a leading exporter, we proudly serve markets across multiple countries, providing full-body vitr fied tiles that combine durability, elegance, and innovation to transform spaces globally.

THE ORIGIN OF A PURE MATERIAL

Every enduring surface begins with what lies beneath. Our Fullbody Collection starts with the careful selection of high-quality raw materials, chosen for their consistency, strength and ability to perform over time.

Each element is brought together with precision to create a surface that is not merely beautiful on the outside, but engineered with strength running through its entire body. With a substantial 15 mm thickness, the collection is built to take on demanding spaces with confidence.

Advanced manufacturing technology, controlled compaction and precision processing transform carefully selected materials into a dense, high-performance surface designed for the future.

Its full-body construction creates greater structural integrity and dependable durability, making every tile ready for spaces where performance matters as much as design.

Thickness

At 15MM thickness, every tile is built with a substantial body that brings greater confidence, stability and strength to the surface. Its solid construction is designed for spaces where everyday performance needs to go beyond the ordinary.

More than just added thickness, 15MM represents a stronger approach to surface engineering; combining fullbody construction, material density and precision manufacturing to create a durable, next-generation surface made to perform for years.
